There is every indication that skirts for spring and summer wear will be trimmed lengthwise. Many spirts already have the tabler defined by beads of trimming on each side, while quilts of all kinds—flat, appliqued, plaited and ruffled—are gaining favor every day. Lace and gauzo are employed in the laster two ways very effectively. Nevertheless perfectly plain skirts are still worn and promise to continue inshimable for some time lenger in spite of the efforts of the medistrate to continue inshimable for some time lenger in spite of the efforts of the medistrate to continue inshimable for some time lenger in spite of the continue. Warm weather growns of mustin, gaure, expent, foulard and linen will most likely monopolize the frivolous adoruments, being thin and light.

Is the cape still to be worn in spite of the long lense of life it has already enjoyed and in spite of the decreased and still decreasing size of sleeves? It is, but in a modified form. The large collar and the capuchin, or, preferably, its uscless imitation, are to be features of the new capes. These and other small weaps will be aderped with fancial arrangements of plaitings and ruchings, with yokes and

nnual Town Meeting Largely Attended -- To rey Beats Prindle by Only Five Votes -- The School House Question and Other Important Matters Considered -- Good

The annual town meeting occurred Monday with the finest of weather and a large attendance. The roads were bad, tut the people are used to that sort of thing at town meeting time and the heavy will the polysisted at the sort of the sor traveling kept few voters at home Charles S Cole was chosen moderator and the polls were opened at 10 c clock. The voting was very steady till noon and was plain to be seen before the poils had been long open that unless a decided change should take pace in the way things were going the contest would be very close. This put the workers on both were going the coulest would be very close. This put the workers on both sides on their mettle and some lively histing was done among the voters gathered and to bring in straggiers whose patriotism had not been sufficient to bring them. It was inspected to the other two lity on the west of the state of the state of the state of the west of the state of t ity on the part of the candidates for con stables, this effice for some reason possessing charms that are by many considered worth working for At 2 o clock the worant was taken up
